Salary: Salary negotiable based on bank examination experience. Base pay for entry level is $3,274 a month.

Closing Date: December 21, 2011

This is an at-will position headquartered in Lincoln. (Please note: The Nebraska Department of Banking and Finance is in the process of filling two Bank Examiner positions – one in Lincoln and one in Omaha. Applicants interested in applying for both locations must fill out separate applications.) These positions may be filled at the Examiner Trainee, Junior Examiner, or Senior Examiner level depending on bank examination experience. Positions filled at the Examiner Trainee level will require approximately three weeks training in Lincoln.

The essential duties and qualifications/requirements for the Bank Examiner are as follows:

Participation in all areas of Safety and Soundness financial institution examinations, including the evaluation of capital adequacy, asset quality, management and oversight of a bank, earnings performance, liquidity, and sensitivity to market risk in order to assess the overall condition of a financial institution. In addition, the Examiner Trainee will assess information technology risk, compliance with laws, rules and regulations, statements of policy and compliance with outstanding enforcement actions. Travel is required, including some overnight travel. Individuals interviewed must provide a college transcript at the time of the interview. A criminal background check will be completed on the selected candidate. For more information about the Nebraska Department of Banking and Finance, please visit our website at www.ndbf.ne.gov.

Requires a bachelor's degree from an accredited college or university with at least 24 semester hours in business administration, accounting, finance, marketing, or economics. Specific course requirements include a basic or introduction to accounting class and an intermediate or comparable accounting class. Preference will be given to majors such as Business Administration, Economics, Finance, Accounting, or Agricultural Economics. Work experience in a financial institution, other positions of trust, prior auditing or examining experience is desirable. To qualify for the Senior Examiner level the candidate must have a minimum of five years of regulatory financial institution experience, including three years experience as an examiner-in-charge of bank examinations. Individuals hired at the senior level will be expected to achieve and maintain the Conference of State Bank Supervisors (CSBS) Examiner-In-Charge certification. Must possess a valid driver's license and evidence of vehicle insurance, or the ability to provide independent authorized transportation. Must be willing and able to travel overnight approximately 30% of the time.

Strong oral and written communication skills are essential. Good computer skills are necessary, including proficiency with Microsoft Word and Excel. Knowledge of Alert and Genesys is helpful. Must be able to meet deadlines, work with limited supervision, be a team player capable of working with fellow examiners in a team setting, examiners of other bank regulatory agencies, and the personnel of banks examined.
